Principal's Pen

Our third quarter is now complete, as of last Tuesday and report cards will be sent out this Friday. Let's work together to make this fourth quarter the most beneficial to our students in academics, fine arts, athletics and most importantly in their continued spiritual growth.

Forty-eight students are busily preparing for our competition at the national AACCS fine arts event the week after spring break. Thank you for praying for and encouraging them as polish up their competition pieces.

Don't forget to take a few moments and enroll for next year and if you struggle at all with accessing or finding your way around Parentsweb, please come by and let our helpful office staff assist you. Not only can you enroll online, but accessing parentsweb allows you to take advantage of the many other features, such as homework information and up to the date grade information that is at your disposal.

You will not want to miss our senior play scheduled for Friday, March 30. Positioned right before our students go on spring break, it will be a relaxing evening for your family and I hope you plan to attend.

Stay encouraged, avoid the yellow pollen, and have a great week!
