Principal's Pen

What a joy it was to see our young people compete in a variety of areas on Wednesday and Thursday at the AACCS National Fine Arts Competition. We were thrilled to have four groups/individuals place at the national level which helped toward the state of Georgia placing fourth overall in national competition. The students looked great, did well, and behaved well. This was an important facet of their educational experience while students who did not attend were busy continuing to learn each day.

Thank you for praying for our students who all benefited from their participation both at the state and national competitions.

Students will be taking the annual Iowa test of basic skills this week which is another valuable assessment of their abilities. Results will be shared at the end of the year.

Have an outstanding week.

BBCS Teacher & Staff Appreciation Week

April 29-May 3

The week of April 29 through May 3 provides a wonderful opportunity for both parents and students to thank and encourage the teachers and staff at BBCS. Please be thinking how you can make this week special for at least one teacher and/or staff member.

Please look over the Appreciation Week Volunteer Form included with this week's newsletter to see how you can be a part of this special week. You may choose to send in a breakfast item or send in a monetary donation for the luncheon.

Please return your form by Friday, April 26. Luncheon donations can be attached to the form.

Congratulations to the following AACCS National Winners!

Holly Taylor - 2nd place Woodwind Solo

Handbell Ensemble - 2nd place

Leeanne Starr - 3rd place Oral Interpretation of Scripture

John Ernst - 3rd place Expository Preaching
