Principal's Pen

This is the last week of school with half days Wednesday through Friday. The purpose of half days is to give 7 - 12 students more time to study for final exams and it is my prayer that they will use that time to finish at their best.

This is always a bittersweet week for me as I enjoy having school in session and the following week is very quiet. I want to wish each family a wonderful Memorial Day on Monday and hope you are able to celebrate some precious family time while remembering the blessing of freedom which came at great cost.

Saturday after Friday's senior high graduation, I will be celebrating my fortieth high school graduation and at least 7 of my high school teachers will be attending the event. I appreciate my teachers and hope that as the years go by, our students will appreciate the teachers here at BBC who have invested in their lives.

Thanks for ensuring that financial accounts are in order as the year comes to a close. Thanks much for your support for our school this year as the historic project to finish our "cool the school" project was completed. We are excited for what has been accomplished in the lives of our students spiritually and academically and we look forward to the Lord continuing to work in their lives over the summer. Let us know if we can be a help to you.

BBCS Student Awarded Scholarship

Congratulations to one of our Junior Class students, John Ernst. John has been granted a scholarship to attend the annual AACCS Youth Legislative Training Conference in Washington, DC to be held July 9-13, 2018. BBCS is proud of you, John!

Don't miss the 10% Early Bird Special. It is a great time to take advantage of a good deal. Parents can even buy the uniforms, leave tags on it and exchange at beginning of year if needed if their kids grow.

Out-of-uniform days - Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday

Sponsored by the Junior Class - Cost is $2.00 (total for all three days) if you pay before May 23 or $1 a day after.

1st-6th graders must wear school uniforms on Friday.

Mark your calendars! The games will be on 8/10. Soccer will be at 5:00 pm and volleyball will be at 6:30 pm.
